IMMUNE SUPPORT ESSENTIALS

Nano Technology for A Healthy Immune System

Immune Essentials Nano Colloidal Silver combines the powerful anti-bacterial properties of nano colloidal silver with aloe vera and aloe polysaccharides. Using 100% natural ingredients, these components target the bad bacteria while keeping the good bacteria intact. Incorporate Immune Essentials Nano Colloidal Silver into your daily immune-strengthening regime.

Nano Colloidal Silver

The colloidal silver liquid is a concentration of nano-sized particles suspended in highly purified water. Anecdotally, nano-colloidal silver has been used to treat anything from acne and allergies to mouth infections and intestinal infections. Scientifically, nano colloidal silver has been used in suture threads, bandaid dressings, and explored as a treatment for MCF-7 breast cancer cells. Numerous studies have shown through both vivo and in vitro tests, that silver nanoparticles can be successfully used as an antitumor agent due to its antiproliferative and apoptosis-inducing properties.

Aloe Vera

Aloe vera has been shown to possess effective anti-microbial properties with low side-effects when compared to synthetic anti-microbial therapy. Additionally, this medicinal plant contains anti-inflammatory, antiviral, and antifungal properties. Commonly known as a topical application, aloe vera has been studied extensively over the last three decades for its internal benefit as both a carrier and its immune-boosting activity.

Aloe vera contains over 200 biologically active compounds. The polysaccharides molecule acts as a conductor of these biologically active compounds and modulates the activity of surrounding molecules. This modulation helps promote synergistic biological activity and inhibit acute inflammation within the body.
